What is it?

The Fair showcases research projects on Canadian history from students across Richmond and Delta. These students participate in full-day programs of field trips, workshops, and other activities, much like a history education conference.

On Student Fair Day (Friday, May 3), participants are interviewed about their projects and take part in heritage excursions, activities and performances.

On Public Fair Day (Saturday, May 4), the Fair is open to the public in conjunction with Doors Open Richmond, a city-wide event that celebrates arts, culture and heritage. Family-friendly activities and performances are scheduled throughout the day, which culminates in a Closing Awards Ceremony.

We invite you to adjudicate

As part of the Fairs' experience, students are interviewed about their research and project displays by a panel of adjudicators selected from the community. Working in pairs, adjudicators are assigned approximately 10 projects to evaluate. They also nominate projects for special awards and help select delegates to attend the Provincial Fair.
